St Silas Weekend Away 2005

Lendrick Muir
22-24th April

How to keep the faith
in a changing culture

This year the St Silas' Weekend Away is again at Lendrick Muir, our venue for the last 4 years. Lendrick Muir is a great venue for us, with a range of sleeping accommodation and meeting rooms, and with lots of other facilities.

The programme includes teaching and worship sessions, a children's programme, eating together, opportunity for sporting activities and entertainment of the usual high quality.

Frequently asked questions...

Why should I come on the weekend away?

Because...

- You will get good Bible teaching and worship sessions
- If you have children, they will also get teaching and worship sessions tailored to their age group
- You will meet people from St Silas' you never knew before and get to know others better
- There will be good fellowship over meals
- There is an opportunity for sporting activities, walking around the grounds, or just sitting around chatting
- Because it's fun and...there are sofas!

Who are the speakers?

Our speakers will be John and Olive Drane. John teaches practical theology in the Divinity School at the University of Aberdeen and at Fuller Seminary, Pasadena. He and Olive (who has a clown ministry) have three children. John and Olive have a world-wide Christian ministry in churches of many different traditions. His most recent books are "The McDonaldization of the Church" and the groundbreaking evangelistic book addressed to New Agers, "Beyond Prediction: the Tarot and your Spirituality."

Where and what is Lendrick Muir?

Lendrick Muir, in the Ochil Hills, near Kinross, is the Victorian former home of the Moubray family, and now belongs to Scripture Union Scotland. The house is set in extensive grounds with sports facilities. There are several lounges, table tennis and pool tables, a conference room large enough for communal meetings, a sports hall, and a number of outside pitches for football, and much more.

What about sleeping and food?

The accommodation comprises 2- to 7-bedded rooms in the main house and dormitories in the newer unit, Glendevon. Only one or two rooms are available as single rooms. Bedlinen is provided. There are 2 cots available (but no cot linen).

Arrival is from 5pm on Friday and we leave early on Sunday afternoon. All meals on Saturday and Sunday are included in the price. This year, there is an extra charge of £6 (free for under 4s) for the Friday evening meal (at 7pm). Please remember to book this if you require it.

Food will be cooked for us, but we will have to clear and set tables, wash up and clean rooms at the end of the weekend. There are 3 high chairs, but please bring your own if possible.
